

Commission

Ken Behrens May, 1986

5 4

If you dare look on high through the rift in the sky, there's a call on the hearts through the land. Where the past can-not hold an-y pro-mise of gold, there's a rain-bow of broth-ers who stand on the edge of the last, just for - sak-ing the past, for the dawn be-tween dark-ness and light. E-vil test-ing their hearts, for the Day, when it starts, must last 'til the end of the night.

5

9

13

17 G C G

1. The trum - pet's on the moun - tain - top, where E - noch climbed the
 2. The call is on this earth of men, where Ja - cob found his
 3. The call is for the joy - less ones, who Da - vid's harp must
 4. The call is for the rich man, too, who can - not pass the
 5. The call is to God's hid - den church, with Je - sus cru - ci -
 6. The call is on the bro - ken ones, who reach out as you
 7. Six thou - sand years the rule of man, the last for God to

22 Bm G Am D

sky. The har - vest call is sound - ing forth. This time the grain need - n't dreams. So soon the fi - nal climb be - gins, so high the lad - der hear. The words of nev - er real "God's sons" have turned their tunes to gates, who won't e - ven know what's com - ing true, for wealth con - ceals his fied. You tra - vel with them as you search; His blood is at your go. They, your Bro - ther's Fa - ther's sons, does a - ny of them reign. The pro - phe - cies that send you forth, the door to what we die. Fol - low the sound to the heav - ens, and at last we shall be freed.

26 G D G C Am D

 seems. One step each day the per - fect growth for sky - ward climb - ing seeds.
 tears. The notes of spring - song glad - ness are the green grass shep - herds feed.
 fate. Your gifts of po - wer and pro - phe - cy are for those who hide their needs.
 side. And re - sur - rec - tion joy a - waits the heart that dares to bleed.
 know, the White Robed Ar - my's marching and the Spirit's the air we breathe.
 gain: kind - ness, jus - tics, peace and truth as one to earth pro - ceed.

31 C D G C D G C D G

Know the Fa - ther loves you; know that Je - sus called you; know the Spir - it leads.