

Let All the Earth Sing Forth

D7 G D7 G C D7

Let all the earth sing forth with the glories of the Lord, let the God of Glory thunders from the ever-lasting skies.

C Am D7 G

Let all creation praise his name.

1. The stars that fill the heavens show how far-flung is God's love; the
 2. Bal-my spring-time breezes say His Spirit's in the air;
 3. He's hid-den in the atoms men of science seek to tame; He
 4. See Him in the children play-ing in the noon-day sun;

or-der in the planets shouts His name.
 Heat and cold are different sides of truth.
 ef-fer-ves-ces in the artist's soul; He's Hear Him when a new-born baby cries.

Birds that fly from tree to mountain lift our eyes above. The Bounteous autumn harvests prove the promise of His care, as the wait-ing in the doctrines that deny His very name, to Feel Him in two lovers when their life has just begun, and word of all creation is the same.

 earth re-joices in eternal youth.
 seize the grain of truth and make it whole.
 know Him in an old man's peace-ful eyes.
